Drawings

The drawings are objected to because the elements in each of the separate embodiments must be given different reference numerals even though the element they refer to may provide the same function. In other words the elements labeled, for example 15 and 16, are not same structure in the embodiment is Fig. 7 as they are in the embodiment of Fig. 8 thus different numerals should be use. As a suggestion applicant should consider placing a 1, 2, 3 ... etc. in front of each reference numeral corresponding to the different embodiments.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hadley (US 4,014,449). Hadley discloses an anti-tamper cap comprising an a cap with an internally threaded body (2) and an envelope connected to the cap through a radial “free tripper” (6, 8) allowing rotation only in the screwing direction and an access (4), in the threaded body, for a tool (24) allowing for rotation in the unscrewing direction. The combination with a tire valve is considered as intended use of which Hadley would be capable.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 14-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hadley (US 4,014,449) in view of Dischler (US 6,729,487). Hadley discloses an anti-tamper cap comprising an a cap with an internally threaded body (2) and an envelope shaped to prevent access to the threaded body and connected thereto through a radial free tripper (6, 8) allowing rotation only in the screwing direction by hand while requiring a tool (24) for rotation in an opposite direction. Dischler discloses a similar cap but includes polygonal shaped knurls (see Fig. 12B). At the time the invention was made, it would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art to provide the cap of Hadley with knurls as disclosed in Dischler in order to improve the finger grip to the cap. As regards to claims 15 and 16, Hadley discloses teeth (6) are disclosed integral with envelope while radially deforming teeth (8) are disclosed integral with the threaded body. It would have been an obvious reversal of parts for one of ordinary skill in the art to locate the teeth on the threaded body while locating there deformable teeth on the envelope in Hadley because they would continue to operate in the same manner. The combination with a tire valve is considered as intended use of which Hadley would be capable.

Response to Remarks

The drawing objection has been maintained even in light of amended Figs. 7 and 8 because all the drawings require similar correction.

Applicant's other remarks are moot in view of the new grounds of rejection.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
